FRENCH TROOPS REGAIN GROUND

Occupy Mound on Which Douaumont Village Rests.

SEVERE ARTILLERY ACTIONS

Paris Official Report Asserts Heavy Bombardment Continues Along the Entire Front From West of the Meuse to the Woëvre Region.

Paris, March 4.—The French have occupied the highest part of the mound on the northern slope of which the village of Douaumont is situated and also in counter attacks against the Germans have regained ground in the immediate vicinity of Douaumont, according to the French official communication.

The bombardment continues violent along the entire front from the west of the Meuse to the Woëvre region. The communication says:

"In Belgium we have bombarded the enemy's cantonments in the region of Langemarck. To the north of the Aisne a strong patrol which had attacked one of our small posts was repelled with losses. Our artillery has carried out a destructive fire against German works to the east of Neuville and to the south of Berry au Bac.

"In the Argonne our artillery has shown great activity and has bombarded the German lines at La Fille Morte and in the Cheppy wood. We exploded successfully a camouflet at St. Hubert.

"Our artillery has concentrated its fire on assembling points of the Germans, notably in the vicinity of Beaumont, where a column on the march has dispersed.

"In Upper Alsace we have carried out an attack to the east of Sepsols and have taken several elements of German trenches on the right bank of La Grande Lague. A counter attack of the enemy failed to dislodge us from the conquered ground.

"Adjutant Navarre brought down in the region of Ouaumont his sixth aeroplane, a craft of the Albatross type. The aeroplane fell inside our lines. The passengers, who were wounded, were taken prisoners."

"On the Ypres-Comines canal we have consolidated the positions taken."

3,130 Lives Lost With French Ship

Paris, March 4.—It was announced at the French ministry of marine there were nearly 4,000 men on board the French auxiliary cruiser La Provence when it was sunk in the Mediterranean Feb. 26.

It was stated that on board the La Provence were the staff of the Third colonial infantry regiment, the Third battalion, the second company of the First battalion, the Second machine gun company and one extra company, in all nearly 4,000 men.

As the ministry of marine on Feb. 29 announced that the number of survivors of the La Provence disaster was estimated at 870 it is indicated by the foregoing dispatch that upward of 3,130 lives were lost.

The loss of more than 2,000 lives in the sinking of the La Provence is the greatest ocean disaster of modern times.

Stillwater Sentence Rapid River Man for Heinous Crime

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 4.—Andrew Johnson, sheriff of Beltrami county, arrived at the state capitol this morning on an unusual errand. Johnson left Bemidji yesterday with a man, woman and infant—father, daughter and babe. The man was Herman Scheffer, a homesteader from Rapid River, six miles from Baudette, and he was taken to Stillwater to serve a prison sentence of ten years. The woman was Miss Cornelia Scheffer, the man's daughter, who was taken to the home for girls at Sauk Center. The infant was brought to St. Paul. Scheffer had been convicted of being the father of his daughter's baby. It was the intention of leaving the baby at the Children's Home Society at St. Anthony Park, but the baby was refused admittance owing to the conditions surrounding its birth. The child was left at a hotel while Sheriff Johnson went to the attorney general and to the governor's office pleading with them to provide some means of caring for the infant of four months. The sheriff declared he had no intention of seeking a pardon for the unnatural father, as was reported in some of the papers carrying the story.

CONSPIRACY CHARGE PRACTICALLY FAILS

San Francisco, March 4.—The federal indictment charging Franz Bop, German consul general here, and five others with conspiracy to set on foot a military expedition to encompass destruction of British property, virtually was dismissed when Judge Maurice T. Dooling in the United States district court sustained the demurrer to the indictment filed by the consul's lawyers.

There is still another indictment against the accused men on which the court did not rule. In addition to Bop, those under indictment were: Baron E. H. von Schenk, German vice consul; George Wilhelm von Brinken, attached to the consulate; Charles C. Crowley, detective employed by the consulate; Mrs. Margaret W. Cornell, employed by Crowley, and J. H. van Koolbergen, said to have been hired to carry out certain alleged bomb plots in Canada.

The court sustained the demurrer on the ground that the indictment contained no matter upon which the issue could be presented to a jury.

DIE IN GAS FILLED ROOM

Two Northwest Lumberjacks Perish in New York City.

New York, March 4.—Two lumbermen, who worked side by side for twenty years in the woods of the Northwest, were found dead in a lodging house. They had hoarded their savings and were on their way back to Germany when they arrived in New York.

Martin Breitholtz and Louis Hoen-duorits were their names. Both bought their tickets on a Holland-American liner in Minneapolis.

SAYS FLEET IS SHORT OF MEN

Admiral Fletcher So Informs House Committee.

ATLANTIC SQUADRON SUFFERS

Naval Officer Asserts That Only Fifteen of the Twenty-one Battleships Are on Active Duty in West Indian Waters.

Washington, March 4.—Only fifteen of the twenty-one battleships of the Atlantic fleet are on active duty in West Indian waters, three of the other six being so crippled for lack of officers and men that they cannot operate with the fleet, and the other three either awaiting or undergoing extensive repairs.

The fifteen active ships are short from eight to seventeen officers each of the number assigned to them by the navy department and 1,000 coal passers, electricians, gunners' mates and other trained enlisted men, although they have added about 100 more men than the total personnel allowance by regulations.

This was the situation of the fleet as pictured by Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief, before the house naval committee.

He added that in his opinion and that of various boards of officers who have studied the subject the battleship squadron of the active fleet required at least 5,000 additional men over the complements now assigned.

The lack of officers is the most serious aspect. Admiral Fletcher thought, because it requires ten years to train a competent lieutenant or lieutenant commander.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 4.—The St. Paul Athletic club hockey team wrested the American amateur championship from the American Soo Hockey club and incidentally the famous $2,000 MacNaughton cup, emblematic of this honor, by defeating the locals 4 to 1.

St. Paul earned its right to the honor by outplaying the Soo most of the time.

BLAMES JEALOUSY FOR GRAFT CHARGE

Chicago, March 4.—Jealousy was the cause of the "split salary" charge made by Mrs. Page Waller Eaton against her superior, Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, head of the social welfare bureau of Chicago, according to Mrs. Rowe's testimony before the civil service commission here.

"Mrs. Eaton is jealous of me and of the good work done by the department," Mrs. Rowe testified. "She wanted my job in the first place. She flattered me and was over gracious. She told me I was fair and square, but I always was dubious of her. She was solicitous and gracious at Christmas time."

COWBOY TRICK SAVES LIFE

Fireman Lassoes Man Caught in Tangle of Wires.

Kansas City, March 4.—Ability to throw a lasso learned ten years ago enabled George Bell, a city fireman in Kansas City, Kan., to save the life of Frank Slathno, a track sweeper, lodged in a maze of electric feed wires after he had been knocked from the track of the elevated road.

Slathno was caught many feet below the track where the wires arrested his fall. The fire department was called.

Bell obtained a rope and threw a loop over the man's shoulders. Slathno soon was pulled to safety.

Marriage in France.

In France a man under twenty-five and a girl under twenty-one cannot marry without the consent of their parents if they are alive or of the survivor if one is dead. If both are dead the grandparents must be consulted if living. Even the would be bridegroom over twenty-five and the bride over twenty-one must ask the parental ben-they must give their parents or their representatives a month's clear notice of their intention to marry.

WOMAN'S REALM

ON THE CARE OF THE BABY

When Baby Reaches Third Year He Should be Fed Four Times a Day at Regular Intervals

CHEW FOOD VERY CAREFULLY

Should Not Drink While Eating Solid Food, Lest He Wash it Down Without Chewing

This article on the care of the baby has been prepared by the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor and takes up the care of baby after the second year.

When the baby reaches the third year he should be fed four times a day at regular intervals, having the heaviest meal in the middle of the day.

It is of the utmost importance to teach him to chew his food carefully and thus to take plenty of time at his meals. But since his tiny teeth can only partly masticate his food, this should be properly prepared for him. Meat should be cut into small pieces, vegetables either mashed or put through the colander, and all the cores, skins and seeds should be removed from fruits.

He should not be allowed to drink while eating solid food, lest he fall into the habit of washing down his food before it is thoroughly chewed, as do so many of his elders.

The following foods are recommended for children from two to three years; and a daily program is suggested for the convenience of the mothers:

7:30 a. m. Cereal—Well-cooked oat, wheat or corn preparation, with thin cream or milk and very little sugar. Cereals should be cooked three hours in a double boiler, and flavored with a little salt when being cooked. Glass of whole milk, warmed in the cool months of the year. Egg, soft boiled, poached or coddled. Toast, or dry bread and butter.

10:00 a. m. Fruit, use one orange and strain the juice, or a baked apple and two graham crackers; or warm milk, one glass, with dry bread or toast.

2:00 p. m. Vegetable soup, one teaspoonful, or meat broth, with rice or arrowroot. Meat, beef, mutton or chicken, broiled, roasted or boiled, or, fish, cut into small pieces, flavored with a little salt. Use no pepper, sauces or condiments. Potato, baked, mashed, with a little salt, butter and milk, or salt and cream; or, boiled rice or spaghetti, both thoroughly cooked; with butter or cream. Green vegetables, either carrots, asparagus, string beans, peas, spinach, young beets, or squash, each cooked until very soft, with a little salt in the water; strained through a colander or mashed. Dessert, apple tapioca pudding, or baked apple, or apple sauce or stewed prunes, or plain custard, or junket. Drink, water. No milk at this meal. Stale bread, with butter.

6:00 p. m. Bread and milk; or cereal, farina, arrowroot, or wheat, or milk; or milk toast; or dry toast or bread with glass of milk. Raw fruit juice and milk should not be given at the same meal. Do not give a child of this age any of the following foods. Pork in any form, or salted meats or salted fish; cabbage, onions, celery, radishes, lettuce, cucumbers or raw tomatoes; hot breads, or griddle cakes; sweet cakes, pastry, syrups, or jellies; nuts or candies; bananas, nor any green or over-ripe fruit; tea, coffee, wine, beer, cider or soda water. Mothers are apt to err chiefly in the matter of sweets in feeding children. An excess of sweet food, not only upsets the young stomach but destroys partially the appetite for plain food.

Children should be taught to eat simple, well-cooked food, but should not be forced to eat when they have no appetite. If a child shows a disinclination to eat some special food, which he ought to have, this should be given first at the meal, even if only a small quantity is eaten. Do not fall into the error of scolding the child at meal times, which should be one of the pleasantest hours of the day, full of fun and joy. A little judicious coaxing will usually result in the child's taking the right food in sufficient quantity.

Methods of preparing meats, vegetables and soups for young children are given in Infant Care, a little book, which is sent free to all who ask for it, addressing the request to the Chief of the Children's Bureau, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Composed Entirely of Resident Musicians—The Program Bound to be a Popular One

The Brainerd Symphony orchestra is composed entirely of resident musicians who are working to a greater end with no thought of material recompensation, and expect nothing more than that about five per cent of the population of Brainerd will attend the concerts given, at the admission price of 50 cents.

The music played at the concerts is not the so-called popular variety, but it is the popular music of yesterday, today and tomorrow, the kind that lives and grows, the kind of music every one should try and enjoy.

Those who attended the previous concerts given by the Brainerd Symphony orchestra, are bound to attend this one on Tuesday evening, March 7, at the Brainerd opera house. Dvorak's "Humoresque" occupies a prominent place on the program. It is curious what a tremendous vogue this charming selection has had the last few seasons. Because of its extreme melody it has rivaled in public favor many of the leading popular song hits and ballads of the day.

Tickets are on sale at the H. P. Dunn drug store. There will be no sale of tickets by solicitors. The symphony concerts are first class entertainments and entitled to be considered as such and that is why the selling of tickets from door to door has been discouraged.

The children will have free admission to the afternoon concerts as usual.

SATURDAY, MARCH 4, 1916.

At any rate the fact remains that President Wilson had to look to republican congressmen for help when he most needed it.

The Pine River Sentinel in an editorial mention commenting on the congressional situation in the Sixth district says:

"With such men as Representative Warner, of Aitkin, and Bouck, of Royalton, M. J. Woolley, of Park Rapids, and the leading newspapers of the Sixth district supporting Hon. C. B. Buckman for congress, there does not seem to be any question but that the latter will be nominated and elected."

The Pillager Herald has installed a new cylinder press and added other machinery and improvements which causes Editor Bennet to extend an invitation to the newspaper boys, and we don't expect he would kick if the newspaper girls accepted also. "to come in and get acquainted and we will guarantee to show you the best equipped newspaper plant in the state for any town our size—and that's saying a whole lot." The improved appearance of the Herald indicates that the editor knows what he is talking about.

If Americans are not now sufficiently warned to keep off armed merchantmen and the ships of warring nations there is consolation in the thought that there would not have been much more to have accomplished in an official notice. The agitation over the tilt between President Wilson and the congressmen of his own party has reached far and wide and most people who travel now know that it is exceedingly dangerous—in fact that the lives of those who take the chances are in peril. There is very little chance to save a man from himself if he really wants to commit suicide.

F. B. Kellogg has returned to Minnesota from California where he had gone to spend the winter, his return being sooner than expected owing to the call of the people that he become a candidate for the United States senate at the coming election. In order to get his business affairs in such shape that he could give his entire attention to his campaign which he will take up after the presidential primaries are over, it was necessary for him to return sooner than he otherwise would have done. Mr. Kellogg expects to tour the state and will discuss the public issues that are before congress and the people. The few newspapers whose editors have seen fit to question the advisability of Mr. Kellogg's candidacy, and they are mostly from the democratic side, will be answered by the gentleman in his speeches defining his position on the great questions confronting the American people.

Cheering Him Up.

A professional boxer was badly beaten in a sparring match and carried to his bed exhausted and melancholy.

"I wish you'd say something to cheer him up, doctor," pleaded the defeated warrior's wife. "He's gettin' low in his mind, and when he's like that you've no idea how hard it is to wait on him. He's worse than a bear with a tooth-ache."

"What can I say that will please him most?" asked the doctor.

"You might just tell him, in an off-hand way, that the man as licked him is mighty bad in the 'ospital and that they may have to hold a post mortem on him any minute now," was the solemn suggestion.—London Telegraph.

COULD AMERICA AID THE ALLIES?

Hard to Guess What We Would Do in Case of War.

WHY CONGRESS IS PACIFIC.

Members of Both Houses Ask if We Would Send Troops to the Trenches in Flanders or Send a Fleet to Be Menaced by Submarines—Interesting Problems Presented.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, March 4.—[Special.]—Just what the United States would do in case we went to war with Germany is worth considering. Would we send our soldiers to Flanders or France to die in the trenches or be annihilated by the German guns? Would we send our navy to European waters and endanger the ships by submarines in view of the fact that England has scarcely struck a blow with her navy? These are questions which come to the minds of men who recollect how we plunged into war with Spain without any means of making war save the naval vessels. We started in to free Cuba without a single ship to carry troops to Cuba.

The Feeling in Congress.

Conversations with congressmen show that the possibilities growing out of war with Germany caused the wave of opposition to the president's policies which came very near resulting in the passage of a resolution of a pacific nature.

The war spirit does not run high in congress. At the time of the Spanish war it was congress that went on the rampage and forced the administration unwillingly into the conflict. This was over the protest of the conservative members of both houses. It is true that there was politics in it to some extent, for one party was almost united in favor of war. But the feeling in congress is not at all like it was back in 1898.

Madden's Vain Plea.

There was a provision in the post-office appropriation bill for increasing the salaries of a number of clerks. Sisson of Mississippi was in with a point of order, a "point of order" being a weapon by which one man can defeat what is desired by the entire house with the exception of himself. Madden of Illinois made a plea for the clerks, pointing out the increased cost of living and showing that no increase had been made for them in twenty years.

"The time has come when even the gentleman from Mississippi ought to open the windows of his heart and let a little sunshine in," said Madden. "Do not be a pessimist; be liberal enough to do justice; do not be like a blind man going into a dark room looking for a black hat that he knew was never there."

But even that plea did not move Sisson.

The Quorum Man.

Senator Spooner is on hand when the gavel falls at the beginning of each session, and he insists that a quorum of the senate shall keep him company. He makes the point of no quorum every morning and has a roll call.

Mann and Foster.

There is a warm friendship and mutual admiration between Mann and Foster, both of Illinois, but on different sides of the political fence. But at the same time they have their fencing matches. One day Mann was criticizing the committee on rules, of which Foster is a prominent member.

"The gentleman is so alert and intelligent that he will not be taken by surprise in regard to action on this matter," said Foster.

"Nothing, no matter how bad it is, will take me by surprise, coming from the Democratic committee on rules," retorted Mann.

War and Water Power.

Discussion of the water power bill in the senate brings out some of the curiosities of our government. The proposition is for control of the water power by the secretary of war. Of course the development of water power has nothing whatever to do with war, any more than navigation or the improvement of rivers and harbors, but all come under the head of the war department. The department of commerce of the interior would be the proper place for this work. It is because army engineers handle rivers and harbors, and they are a part of navigation, that the war department has charge. Water power is intertwined with navigation or at least has been made so in the bill.

Same Old Game.

Fitzgerald and Bennett of New York were indulging in the old familiar game of the pot calling the kettle black.

"The Republicans in the Sixty-first congress passed only twenty-two special rules," said Fitzgerald in a questioning manner, "because they could not get votes on account of the insurgents?"

"No," replied Bennett; "when we needed any votes to carry anything through we could get some Democrats."

The house laughed heartily at this retort because on the most important matter in that congress Fitzgerald contributed enough Democratic support to enable Cannon to win.

Tonight we again present "The Blindness of Devotion," a Wm. Fox production supreme.

Sunday, "The Heart of Maryland" in 6 parts. Maryland Calvert, at the beginning of the Civil War, endeavors, without success to induce her sweetheart, Alan Shay to join the Southern forces. Her brother joins the rebels, while in reality he is a Northern secret service man. Col. Thorpe, Alan's bitterest enemy, a Southern Colonel captures Alan, during battle and sentences him to die. Maryland, during a raging battle, sees Colonel Thorpe and pleads for Alan. Colonel Thorpe is adamant and refuses to commute his sentence. In a scuffle, Maryland renders the Colonel unconscious and Alan escapes. The Colonel upon recovering, orders the church bell rung to notify his pickets that Alan has escaped. Maryland makes her way to the lofty belfry and swings on the clapper, preventing it from ringing and Colonel Thorpe, upon learning Alan has escaped, arrests Maryland. One night only. Monday and Tuesday Miss Audrey Muncan, America's foremost Art model in the sensation of the year, "Inspiration."

TRAPPING A PYTHON.

The Monster Is a Victim of His Own Greedy Appetite.

The python's weak point is its stomach; it is a glutton. Not satisfied with a full supper, it will start at once on next week's breakfast if by chance that future meal happens to be within easy reach.

A python generally lives in a hole in the ground or a hollow in a tree, but if it can find an old ruin in the jungle—and there are many old ruins in India—it likes to take up its sleeping quarters there, because even in the heaviest rains the water runs off the ruins quickly, whereas a hole in the ground is likely to be flooded. The python needs to eat only once a week, and to get that meal it lies flat along the bough of a tree near a stream and waits for its prey to come to drink.

When the natives see the long trail that the python's body makes near the bank and find a heap of ruins near by they make a hole in the ruined wall just exactly big enough for the python to get through. Then they tie a pig to a stake near the hole on one side of the wall, and on the other side of the wall opposite the hole they tie another pig to a stake. They also tie a wire to the leg or the tail of the near side pig, and as evening draws on they twist it from a distance, and the pig squeals. As the python comes home to bed it hears the squeals.

So the python comes along merrily and seizes its supper at a single bite. Down goes the pig into the big snake's throat, sucked in slowly by sheer muscular action. In about half an hour the pig has passed completely down the long neck, and in another half hour it is down a couple of yards farther into the python's stomach.

Most animals would go to sleep right away after a gorge like that. But meanwhile the second pig on the other side of the wall has realized its unhappy brother's woeful fate and has set up a most distressing noise. The python puts its head through the hole and sees it.

"Ah!" it says to itself. "Here's my next week's breakfast."

And instead of waiting for next week to come that greedy python swallows the second pig too. The wily natives wait until the second pig is well on its way down the python's body; then they have the snake caught. Pig No. 1 prevents it from advancing, and pig No. 2 prevents it from retreating. The natives lasso the python around the neck, break down the wall and pass a coil of rope between the two humps of pig before they can amalgamate. Then they beat away the python to captivity.—Wonders of the Jungle.

Interviewing a Humorist.

"Good morning, Wagge. What's on the carpet today?" asked Bingleton.

"Dust," said Wagge.

"Clever boy! But I mean what have you on foot?"

"Shoes," said Wagge solemnly.

"Oh, come off, Wagge. What are you up to these days?"

"Date," sighed Wagge.

"I'll give you just one more chance, you poor fellow, you. What are you doing now?"

"Everybody," said Wagge.

"As usual, eh?" said Bingleton as he shoved the remains down the nearest available coal hole.—New York Times.

The Old Capitol Building.

The structure in Washington city known as the "Old Capitol building" has a memorable history. It was erected in 1800 and was originally designed as a tavern or boarding house. On account of poor management the tavern was closed after a few years. During the war of 1812 the British captured Washington and burned several of the public buildings, including the capitol. The government then purchased this tavern building for the use of congress, and here both houses met for several years. Within its walls two presidents were inaugurated, and in it John C. Calhoun died.

How a Meaning Changes.

"Cheat" is a word that now has a very ugly sound. To cheat a man is to defraud him. Originally the word conveyed no such meaning. The old word "eschew" referred to the dues that fell to the crown. It came from the French echoir (Latin, excedere). The modern meaning that attaches to the word tells a sad tale of the extortion and greed that must have been practiced in collecting the dues.

Characteristic.

"Did my housemaid testify at the trial?"

"Yes, but her testimony was stricken out as incompetent."

"How very like her!" murmured the party of the first part.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

15 DRILLS AT PENNINGTON

Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Company Has Declared its Second Dividend

At the Thompson mine of the Inland Steel company on the north Cuyuna iron range one will soon witness three kinds of mining being carried on, milling, open pit and underground. There is some talk of stripping the Haley forty, taking also the end of the Keating forty.

The Pennington pit mine is shifting its tracks to the foot wall. Ten to 15 drills will soon be put to work in the pit and preparations made for heavy shipments this season. Capt. G. A. Anderson is directing work at the Meacham mine where a new pumping station is being cut.

The Cuyuna-Sultana is shipping seven cars a week, some going to the Zenith Furnace Co. at Duluth. Ore pockets are being put in. At the Mangan shaft Capt. Wm. Pascoe is in charge. The shaft is down over 90 feet. It is planned to start a creek cut and cut a pump station at 100 feet depth. The Soo is building a spur into the Mangan mine.

The Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mine has 100 men at work and has been shipping steadily. The Armour No. 1 is engaged in pumping. The Cuyuna-Duluth is working 100 men on three eight hour shifts. Levels at 150 and 300 feet are being opened up. Supt. L. T. Gavin being in charge.

The Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co., said John Wahl, of Duluth, is expected to ship from 300,000 to 400,000 tons this season and stockholders are jubilant. The Mahonmen pit being opened up by the Guthrie has made a record in the removal of overburden. Two shovels are working and are down to ore now in a strip 40 feet wide. Something like 800,000 yards of overburden has been removed. The Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore Co. has already declared two dividends.

Drilling is being regularly carried on by the Minnesota Iron Development Co. in section 25, township 47, range 29. The Erickson property near Deerwood is being drilled by the Klondyke Iron Co.

The Soo is preparing to build a line to the Cuyuna-Sultana and Breitung properties. The Tabert shaft on the south range near Loerch is being sunk by the Adair Development Co. A depth of 50 feet has been attained. A little "boil" was struck and they are waiting for pumps. Two No. 9's will be installed. Capt. Treloar is in charge. Near by west of Woodrow the Biwanago Mining Co. and the Adair Development Co. have drills at work. The Adams mine at Oreland is not working. It is in shape however to supply ore immediately should contracts be closed.

BEMIDJI WINS 45 TO 13

Fast Game of Basketball at Bemidji Last Night Creates Excitement

An exciting game of basketball took place between Brainerd and Bemidji on the Bemidji floor last night. The locals were defeated by a good majority, the score being 45 to 13 in favor of Bemidji.

Although from the score it appears that the game was a very one-sided affair and therefore uninteresting, still Bemidji fans state that outside of Red Wing, who last year won the state championship title it was the fastest game witnessed this season.

The locals were handicapped because of Bemidji's big floor and, although they labored under difficulties and extreme odds, they fought it out to a finish. The locals played hard and succeeded in getting the first field basket to be made by either team.

Not until the second half did Bemidji really "peek up" and start on their "tear." The first half ended with the score 14 to 7 in Bemidji's favor. At every point made by Bemidji the crowd went wild with joy and shook the whole structure with their shouts. To win this game above all others was the aim of the members of the Bemidji squad and they succeeded in living up to it. Again and again the Brainerd quintet made their gains while the audience stood in suspense, mouths gaping, and staring into the mad arena. But when it seemed that Brainerd was on the high road to success the Bemidji quintet would tighten their defense and quell the hopes of the locals. The fierce onslaughts of the Bemidji team proved too much for the locals. The Brainerd boys did their level best and are to be congratulated on their good playing. Not one of the players could be picked as a star and said to be better than the others for each played a high class game of basketball. Those starring for Bemidji were Johnson, Tanner and Bailey.

A large body of fans accompanied the locals to their "Waterloo" and all reported being treated fine by the Bemidji people and feel that they have no "kick" at all coming. So great is the excitement among fans that a gun is fixed to indicate the close of the halves. This introduction of firearms into basketball caused some surprise among the Brainerd fans. This game does not eliminate Brainerd from any chance at the championship title. It remains that Brainerd play Bemidji on some neutral floor for the championship.

Next week the Crosby quintet will meet Brainerd on the local floor. Come out and help Brainerd win and let "Beat Bemidji and on to Carleton" be the slogan of all Brainerdites. March 18 marks the completion of the regular 1916 basketball schedule.

SCHOOL OF METHODS STARTS WEDNESDAY

Churches of Brainerd Planning to Entertain Delegates on the Harvard System

SUNDAY SCHOOLS ATTENDING

Graded Lessons, Bible Study, Teacher Training Work, Programs to be Discussed

The interdenominational School of Methods conducted by the educational secretaries of the Presbyterian, Baptist and Swedish Baptist school boards is for the benefit of all the churches and Christian workers of Brainerd and the adjoining country.

It is expected that there will be delegates from other towns and from a number of the country Sunday schools. The churches of Brainerd are planning on entertaining delegates on the Harvard system, that is, furnishing bed and breakfast. Schools desiring to send representatives are asked to write or phone Revs. Colvin, Cody or Lewis.

The sessions will begin Wednesday evening, March 8, in the Presbyterian church, and the sessions of Thursday and Friday will probably be held in this same church.

The subjects which will most likely be discussed will be the graded lessons in their several departments, Bible study, teacher training work, special days in the Sabbath school, programs and special program features, also missions in the Sunday school.

Various phases of child life, boyhood and girlhood, and adult life, will be considered in their varied spiritual and social relations.

Pastors are asked to announce from their pulpits these meetings and let them serve as widely and useful purpose as possible.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORY TODAY

Today the reporter had the inexpressible experience of holding 75 pounds of liquor in one hand.

It happened like this. He met Special Officer E. R. Boyd and the latter said it wasn't a difficult matter to distinguish satchels loaded with contraband liquor. All that was necessary was to "feel" one.

He pointed out the five satchels of Tom Popovich, Mike Popovich and Joseph Jurich which contained a choice collection of bottled whiskey, cordials, port wine, Holland gin, beer, alcohol and wine.

Each suit case and satchel lifted as though loaded with iron. One double-barreled satchel had the handle pulled out, that section giving way on account of the weight.

Special Officer Boyd was besieged by many who wished to help him carry the suitcases to the hotel, but he wisely commended the Iron Exchange hotel cart and thus kept his charges intact as exhibits in the coming court cases.

"The Yellow Jacket"

In "The Yellow Jacket", which Mr. and Mrs. Coburn will present at the Brainerd opera house, Wednesday March 8, the orchestra is shown in full view of the audience, seated in a booth built for their accommodation at the back of the stage. In addition to playing the excellent description five score, created by William Furl, long with David Belasco, the musicians produce varied sound effects, such as the tinkling of bells, the clashing of cymbals, the clock-work of horse hoofs, and other sounds assisting the audience in imagining various actions.

The musicians, who play weird instruments of the Orient which could not be duplicated save in a museum, are taken on tour with the company. The production is the same as that shown at the Fulton Theatre, N. Y., for five months, and includes all the gorgeous, original costumes, and the celebrated "properties" which aid in distinguishing this play from anything the stage has to offer.

SUDDEN DEATH

Caused by Disease of the Kidneys.

The close connection which exists between the heart and the kidneys is well known nowadays. As soon as kidneys are diseased, arterial tension is increased and the heart functions are attacked. When the kidneys no longer pour forth waste, uric acid poisoning occurs and the person dies, and the cause is often given as heart disease, or disease of brain or lungs.

It is a good insurance against such a risk to send 10 cents for a sample package of "Anuric"—the latest discovery of Dr. Pierce. Also send a sample of your water. This will be examined without charge by expert chemists at Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y. When you suffer from backache, frequent or scanty urine, rheumatic pains here or there, or that constant tired, worn-out feeling, it's time to write Dr. Pierce, describe your symptoms and get his medical opinion without charge—absolutely free. This "Anuric" of Doctor Pierce's is found to be 37 times more active than lithia, for it dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water does sugar.

Simply ask for Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets. There can be no imitation. Every package of "Anuric" is sure to be Dr. Pierce's. You will find the signature on the package just as you do on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for blood and stomach.

WORRY, DESPONDENCY.

Kidney Disease is suspected by medical men when patients complain of backache or suffer with irregular urination, disturbed, too frequent, scanty or painful passage. The general symptoms are rheumatic pains or neuralgia, headaches, dizzy spells, irritability, despondency, weakness and general misery. Worry is a frequent cause and sometimes a symptom of kidney disease. Thousands have testified to immediate relief from these symptoms after using Dr. Pierce's Anuric Tablets.

RESOLUTION IS LAID ON TABLE

Senate Disposes of Gore's Sea Travel Warning.

SCENE CHANGES TO HOUSE

Foreign Affairs Committee Votes to Report McLemore Resolution With the Recommendation That Similar Action to That in the Senate Be Taken.

Washington, March 4.—Following rejection by the senate of a resolution warning Americans not to travel on belligerent ships the house foreign affairs committee, by a vote of 17 to 2, took a longer step toward fully meeting the president's wishes and voted to report the McLemore warning resolution with the recommendation that it be tabled.

In a turbulent scene, such as is seldom witnessed in the senate, the voting on Senator Gore's resolution proceeded, with senators shouting objections, futilely demanding recognition to explain their position and making hot retorts to each other, all of which were out of order.

At one time so many senators were shouting for the vice president's recognition that the sergeant-at-arms was called to restore quiet.

After having maneuvered for two days to get the resolution in such parliamentary position that it was disposed of without debate the senate then proceeded to a general discussion of the subject, to the dismay of administration supporters.

Some Call It "Scotch Verdict."

There were free expressions of opinion that the senate's action, because the vote actually was taken on a motion to table the Gore resolution, with a correction by the author and a substitute by Senator McCumber, was in effect a "Scotch verdict," and had not actually accomplished the purpose of the president.

Such statements aroused the president's friends, who feared they would produce an effect exactly opposite to that intended, a notice to the world that the senate stands behind the president in his demands on Germany for the rights of Americans traveling the seas.

In its report the house foreign affairs committee asserts that the constitution imposed the conduct of diplomatic negotiations on the president and "with this practice the committee does not feel it proper for the house of representatives to interfere."

Administration forces are confident of a full fledged victory.

At the White House satisfaction was expressed with the senate's action.

Senator Gore voted for the motion to table and declared he considered the administration victory a mixed one.

ROOSEVELT TO STAY ON ILLINOIS BALLOT

Springfield, Ill., March 4.—The petitions of candidates for delegates and alternates for national nominating conventions who named Theodore Roosevelt as their choice for president are not affected by the announcement from New York that Mr. Roosevelt would not be a candidate of any party in the Illinois primary, according to an announcement by Lewis G. Stevenson, secretary of state.

"It has been brought to my attention that a rumor is afloat that such candidates' names would be eliminated from the official primary ballot," said Mr. Stevenson. "This is not true. That one may be a presidential candidate without filing a petition for the Illinois primary is recognized, even though his name is not on the primary ballot."

FARGO FINANCIER IS DEAD

Max Stern Was Prominent in City and State Affairs.

Fargo, N. D., March 4.—Max Stern, reputed one of Fargo's wealthiest citizens, president of the Dakota Trust company of Fargo, director in the Cleveland Jewish Orphanage asylum, Cleveland, O., and prominent in city and state affairs, died at his home after an illness lasting a year.

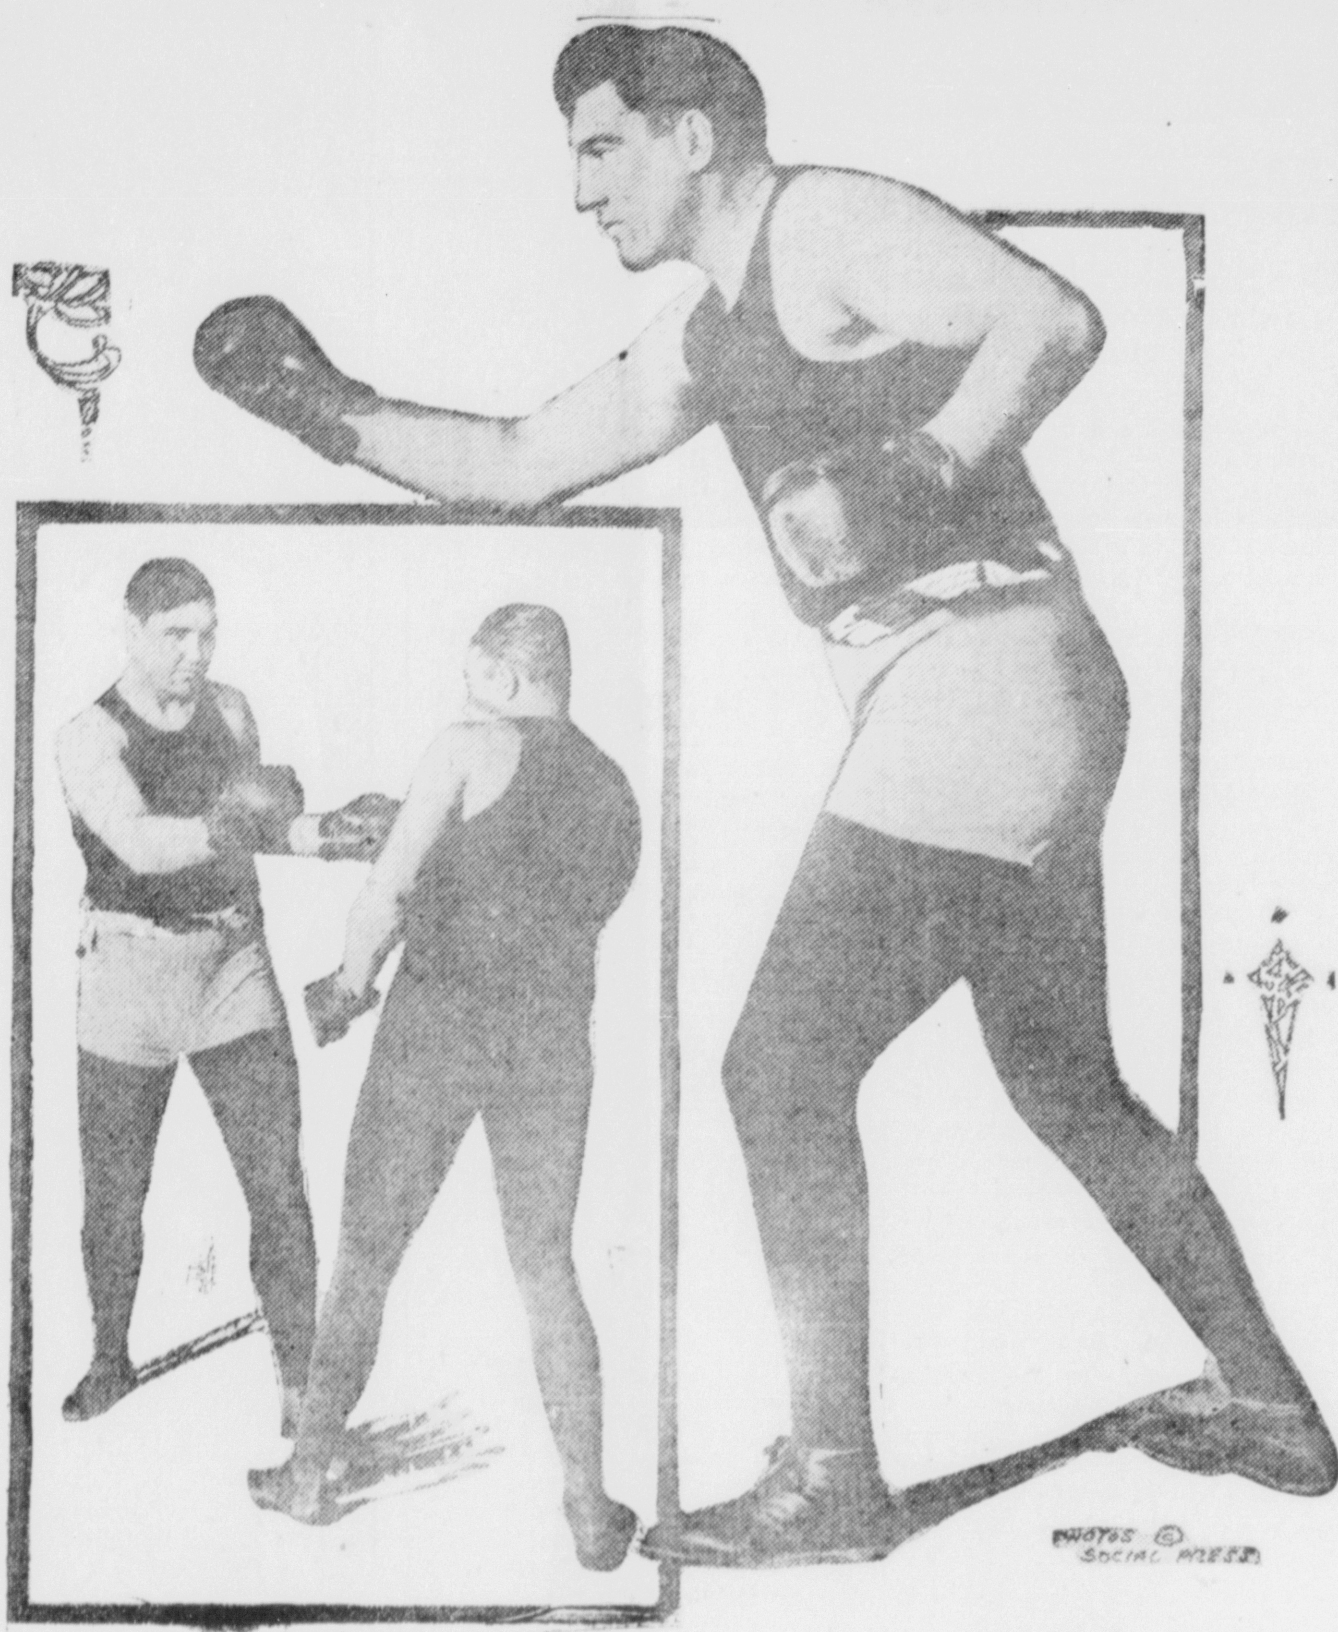

Stern was one of the best known financiers in the Northwest, commencing his business career at Fargo in 1880. In his public life he was a member of the board of education, and the city council. He was a thirty-third degree Mason.

Jess Willard Is in Fine Condition for the Big Fight

These photographs taken of Jess Willard on the first day of his training for his ten round contest with Frank Moran indicate that he is already in good condition and will easily be able to prepare himself by Mar. 25, the date of the encounter. The larger photograph, in which the champion is leading with his right hand, shows the outline of his stomach. It hangs over the belt slightly but not as much as would be expected for a man who has been a year without training. He has very little to take off to harden the stomach for a bout, even a long bout.

The smaller picture shows Willard boxing with Walter Monahan, his training partner. He is very lively.

$15,000 FOR LOSS OF AN ARM

Child Gets Big Verdict in Suit for Damages.

New York, March 4.—A verdict for $15,000 was awarded to thirteen-year-old Charles Bianco for the loss of an arm in front of his home. The verdict was given by a jury in Justice Giegerich's part of the supreme court and was against the Duffy Contracting company. The lad was run over by a truck.

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Thee," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Oil

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled. This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, and lame back misery so promptly!

NATIVES OF ALASKA.

Both Classes of Them Seem to Be of Asiatic Origin.

There are but two classes of natives in Alaska—Eskimos and Siwash Indians. Eskimos live along the northern coast line, while the Siwash is found in every part of Alaska.

The Eskimo is probably of Mongolian extraction, and the Siwash certainly is. In a mixed company of Siwash Indians and Chinese coolies, all dressed in similar garb, it would be impossible to distinguish one from the other by physical appearance alone. Likewise in speech the guttural tones are identical, and peculiarities of inflection and the unconscious little mannerisms of orientals and Siwashes are as strikingly similar as their physical characteristics. The Siwash vocabulary contains between 200 and 300 words—some villages using more and others fewer words, but all containing some words of oriental origin.

The language of all Siwashes was unquestionably the same originally, although at present the inhabitants of some villages are unable to understand the language spoken in others. The speech of these natives on the Alaskan islands probably shows the widest divergence from the original of all the various dialects.

Many Indians speak Russian, and not a few speak the provincial idiom called Chinook, common in British Columbia, Washington and some other states.

All these Indians had a common origin, and that origin was in Asia before the continents divided at Bering strait. Siwashes frequently have red hair, and bald heads are not uncommon. Not so of the true American Indian. While Siwashes drifted far southward, even into California, none of them ever crossed the big barrier, as they term the Rocky mountains.

In every way except in occupation they are different from the Indians of the states. The Siwash turns his attention to hunting and trapping from necessity not from choice. He never hunts for sport—only for meat.—New York World.

THREE KILLED IN COLLISION

Two More Bodies Believed to Be Buried Under Wreckage.

Albany, N. Y., March 4.—Three men are known to have been killed and it is believed two more are dead in a wreck in the North Albany yards of the New York Central railroad. A heavy freight, eastbound, was in a rear-end collision with a passenger train, telescoping two coaches. The train crew of the passengers was in the rear coach. No passengers were aboard.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

TAKES TRAY OF DIAMONDS

Gems Worth Over $25,000 Secured by Jewel Thief.

Chicago, March 4.—Detectives are investigating the theft of jewelry valued at between $25,000 and $50,000 from the shop of Dreicer & Co. Edward L. Smith, manager, reported that a young man entered the shop and requested to be shown some large diamonds. Mr. Smith said he set out three trays of rings and turned his back to obtain another. The young man, who wore a flowing coat, said he had decided not to purchase and hurriedly left the shop. Shortly afterward Mr. Smith discovered that one tray of stones was missing.

In the three trays offered for inspection were diamonds valued at about $175,000, according to Mr. Smith. Detectives assigned to the case assume that the young man slipped one of the trays under his loose top coat.
